

OC Animal Care

July 1st is... ID Your Pet Day!

Having a pet tag can make all the difference if your animal goes missing!

Your pet's ID tag should include the pet's name, current phone number and any important info (such as a medical condition). It's also important to have an updated photo of your pet just in case you need to identify your furry friend if they get lost.

Having a microchip is an additional security measure if your pet should lose their collar and id tag.

DID YOU KNOW?

If your lost pet has ID tags and is found by an Animal Control Officer, they will attempt contact you and bring your pet home through our Take Me Home Program!

Only provided in the cities that OC Animal Care services.
